Claims Rejected

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 1, “and” is confusing. In line 2, “and/or” does not recite equivalents, therefore it is also confusing.

In claim 9, “engine torque” is confusing.

In claim 12, “ASR (traction control)” is confusing because “ASR” is undefined in the claim and it isn’t clear whether or not applicant intends to positively recite “(traction control)”. Further, “and/or” does not recite equivalents, therefore it is also confusing. Finally, “ABS” is undefined in the claim.

In claim 13, “and/or” does not recite equivalents, therefore it is confusing.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 13 and 14, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nagaoka ‘222. Nagaoka shows a control system for a twin clutch transmission wherein shifting is controlled by a vehicle parameter.

Prior Art Discussed

The examiner has considered the references cited by applicant in his Information Disclosure Statement filed February 28, 2005 and April 4, 2005. Only Nagaoka '222 was considered particularly relevant.
